LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 64 1/2. See "Special Inducement" offer of J. W. Sires, Photographer, in this issue.

Mrs. Milt. Taylor, of Emlenton, Pa., spent a few days of last week with her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Haggerty.

Mrs. J. B. Agnew came home from Washington for a few days' visit with friends, returning yesterday.

A. W. Stroup, of Tionesta township, is this week announced as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to Republican usage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chadman, of Conneaut, O., are visiting at the home of F. F. Whittekin. Mr. Chadman is recuperating from an attack of grip.

The Epworth League supper last Wednesday evening was well patronized, and a success all around, the League netting a nice sum for its trouble.

Rev. S. F. Marks and wife, of Tidioute, were the guests of Mrs. H. H. May last evening. The Reverend was one of the judges at the Demorest Medal contest.

James D. Davis, who is engaged with the Penn Mutual Life insurance company, with his headquarters at Erie, was with Tionesta friends a few days of the past week.

The greatest of liniments! Mrs. E. M. Devilliss, Triadelphia, Md., writes: "I use Salvation Oil for sore throat, rheumatism etc., and find it is one of the best liniments out."

Mrs. Miles of Mercer, has been with the family of her son, Mr. O. F. Miles, whose child has been very sick for the past week or ten days. The child is now improving nicely.

J. B. Carpenter and Fred Rudolph of Newtown Mills, dropped in to see us a few minutes yesterday, they having brought out one of Whiteman & Baur's rafts from that place.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the M. E. church, will hold their annual convention in Tionesta the last of May and first of June, next. A full program will be given in due time.

Rev. Rankin goes down to Reno to preach to-night for Rev. Hillard, who is holding a meeting at that place. Jim. was up yesterday and reports quite a good meeting there—18 have professed conversion thus far.

All interested in the public school library are requested to meet at school hall Friday, March 17, at 7:30 p. m. The object of the meeting is to form a permanent organization. T. E. ARMSTRONG, Treas.

Under the auspices of the Hickory W. C. T. U. a Demorest silver medal contest will be held in the Evangelical church, West Hickory, on Friday evening, March 17th. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Supt. G. W. Kerr has been at the bedside of his brother, W. H. Kerr, one of Clarion county's Commissioners, who has been critically ill for the past ten days at his home in Tylerburg. He was improving at last accounts.

Miss E. R. Proper and Misses Effa and Flora Walters have purchased the millinery store of Mrs. G. W. Roward, and will hereafter conduct the business under the firm name of Flora Walters & Co. Success to the young ladies.

For all of these pleasant little references, thanks. The Clarion Republican says: "Forest county can boast as the model moral county of the State, as the February term of court was not held on account of there being no business to transact."

Since the failure of the confirmation by the U. S. Senate of W. S. Rose's appointment at Meadville, it has been thought editor Brown of the Messenger would be the coming p. m. but the President's latest manifesto against editors may make a power of difference.

Sires, the Photographer, offers special inducements to those wanting photos. Don't miss the opportunity. See "Special Inducement" in this issue. Don't forget to clip the coupon out and take it with you. It.

It will be pleasant news to the many friends of Mrs. F. A. Wheeler to learn that she has so far recovered as to be able to return home from Buffalo, where she has been under treatment for several weeks past. She will arrive Saturday, and her complete recovery is predicted by the physicians.

Those who know say that the bottom has entirely dropped out of the Pittsburg boat market, and that, unless things change to a great extent, it will be a pretty difficult matter to give boats away this spring. The continued strike among the miners has practically paralyzed the coal industry, hence the operators have no use for boats.

A load of hay went up in smoke on Third street last Tuesday morning, says the Warren Mail, but the fireman saved the rack and sleds. It seems that the owner, Clarence Skinner, of Farmington, drove on Mr. Thomas' scales to weigh and in turning around went over a small bonfire. Of course the hay quickly caught, and a pall of water should have stopped the fire, but the water wasn't handy.

We clip the following pointer from an exchange: What shall it profit a country editor if he shall gain the applause of the whole world and lose that dollar (or several of them, as the case may be) you owe him for subscription? For all is vanity save that dollar. Yes, verily man shall not live by bread alone, but it is very essential that he have a little bread and where withal shall a young man buy bread if the dollar is with-holden? Brother think of these things.

Rafting began on Tionesta creek last Saturday, J. B. Haggerty, who is running the Tionesta Lumber Co.'s stuff from Salmon Creek, having brought out eleven rafts. Thus far there is little out at the mouth, the j-bbers not having their lumber rafted yet. There is little sawed lumber to run this spring, aside from the Salmon creek output, and that of Collins & Siggins, at Fools creek, further up the Tionesta. The square timber, it is thought, will exceed the sawed lumber this season from that source.

The firm of Ledebur & Bowman, in the flouring mill business at East Hickory, has been dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. Ledebur retiring on account of failing health. These gentlemen have built up a very flourishing business in the flour and feed line, and it is a matter of much regret to Mr. Ledebur, as well as his friends, that he is obliged to take this step. He will rest up for a year or so, however, from his 25 years of almost constant application to business, and his physicians tell him it will be about all the medicine he will need.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Smith, of Nebraska were bereft of their young son, Donald Pierce, who died on Wednesday morning last, of diphtheria, and was buried in the cemetery at this place on the afternoon of the same day. The child was aged 2 years, 1 month and 20 days. The parents, who are just now passing through a severe affliction from this dread disease, have the sincere sympathy of their neighbors in their sore trials. We are pleased to be able to report that, at last accounts, all the sick members of the family are getting better.

In these spring-like days, when the sun shines brightly overhead, and the walks are apparently dry, one is apt to be tempted into going out rubberless and without the customary winter wraps, forgetting the dangers incident to such exposures. Very many of the cases of pneumonia which are constantly reported owe their existence to such thoughtlessness. Don't do it. It won't hurt you to wait a few more weeks, while it may be the saving of you. You needn't be at all considerate of the doctor's welfare; he'll likely have all he can do anyway.

When you wish to know what the weather is going to be, go out and select the smallest cloud you see. Keep your eye on it, and if it decreases and disappears it shows a state of the air that is sure to be followed by fine weather but if it increases take your overcoat with you if you're going away from home, for falling weather is not far off. The reason is this: When the air is becoming charged with electricity you will see every cloud attracting all lesser ones toward it until it gathers into a shower, and, on the contrary, when the fluid is passing off or diffusing itself, then a large cloud will be seen breaking into pieces and dissolving. So says an exchange.

The citizens of Marienville are moving none too soon toward providing themselves with proper fire protection, as the number of blazes which that town has been visited with seems entirely out of proportion to its size and surroundings. The Express of last week gives an account of another fire which destroyed a dwelling house belonging to Frank Kramer, and occupied by S. B. Gold, on the night of the 4th inst. The family was at a neighbor's house at the time, and one of the household effects were saved. An over pressure of gas is assigned as the cause. No insurance.

The millenium is now here. It came yesterday. Leastwise Prof. Totten said it was or would be. But we have discovered no material difference in the ordinary affairs of life. Gas bills must be paid before the 10th in order to save discounts, just the same as heretofore. The bustle for breadstuffs goes just as bravely on, and insurance assessments come around as regularly as ever. Back number subscribers don't get a move on any more than they used to. All these things must be reversed before we can be convinced that we are living in millennial days. Totten's off He needs a monkey-wrench.

According to the Derrick, an important real estate transaction has taken place embracing valuable timber lands in Forest and Warren counties. It says: Wheeler & Dusenbury have purchased the Economite lands in Forest and Warren counties, over which there has been several suits in the past few years, between Samuel Davidson and the Economites, all of which were decided in favor of the Economites. The purchase includes about 2,500 acres of land, well timbered with hemlock and oak, upon which both gas and oil in paying quantities have been found, and at present a gas well of 700 pounds pressure is in use. The consideration is not known.

The following from the Pittsburg Times is timely: "A woman died suddenly down in Beaver county, and forthwith the big type are employed to say that the case looked like cholera. That is, to the reporter, who did not see it, and would not have known it from colic if he had, it looked like cholera. From now on every sudden sickness, caused even by sensationalism striking in, will be made to do duty as cholera. A rose under any other name will smell as sweet, but an item of news is not so valuable when it relates a case of colic as when it does one of cholera. It is nearly time for the comma bacillus to bestir himself after the winter snooze and get to work. So from this time on you may expect to hear frequently of cases of cholera, particularly from remote places in the rural parts. It is not easy to investigate stories which originate far out in the woods, and so the faker has the less fear, whether the faker be the rural reporter or the newspaper which prints whatever he writes. Cholera sells well. Make a note of that, and also of the fact that the supply will always be up to the demand. So accept it with a proper degree of caution."

Last Evening's Contest. The seventh Demorest Contest, given under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., took place last evening in the Presbyterian church. The contestants were Misses Minnie Landers, Clara Douke, Anna Anderson, Grace Smith, Hattie Hood and Kittie Joyce. They all acquitted themselves very creditably, the class being perhaps better averaged than any of the previous ones. The house was packed full, and the best of attention was given to the speakers, whose clear utterance and natural delivery made listening a pleasure, and who spoke their selections with such earnestness that it was manifest the sentiment was their own.

The Judges, who were Rev. and Mrs. S. F. Marks, of Tidioute, and Mr. McKinney of Butler, awarded the prize, a silver medal, to Miss Kittie Joyce. A special feature of the occasion was the very excellent singing and marching by the children. The contestants also sang several good selections.

Seven silver medals having now been won, the next contest will be for a gold medal by the silver medal winners.

"None better." Mr. Thomas Buckley writing from the Iron Works, Elm St., Troy, N. Y., says: "Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is one of the finest cough syrups for colds. None better. I always use it."

The late firm of H. J. Hopkins & Co. has still a number of unsettled accounts, and would be pleased to have all knowing themselves indebted, to call and settle same. The books will be found at the store of Hopkins & Lanson, where settlements can be made.

After the Economites Again.

The latest proceedings against the Economite Society will, according to J. H. Stevenson, be commenced very soon. Auditor General Gregg has not yet been formally notified, but it is thought he will act in the matter and avoid the delay of a mandamus.

Mr. Stevenson, who secured the information going to show that the holdings of the Economite Society are escheatable under the act of Assembly of 1855, in speaking of the matter yesterday said: "I will go down to Harrisburg some time this week, with Attorneys Young and Trent, where we will meet Attorney Lyndon D. Gilbert, who is also interested in the case. We do not anticipate any trouble and are confident that the result of the proceedings will be the confiscation of the property of the Economites by the State. Of this we will receive one-third of the realty and one-fifth of the personally. The suits in the Beaver county courts will not affect our claims in any way. The matter has been published and any person who purchases any property from the society or acquires it in any way will have to give it up, when the case is decided in our favor. I am confident of a favorable termination of the case, but it may require six or seven months before a decision is reached. I do not know what Attorney Gilbert has done lately, but when we go down to Harrisburg we will formally notify Auditor General Gregg, and have no doubt he will take the necessary steps to escheat the property."

An Imperative Requirement.

Here is a short but very pointed sermon from the Tidoute News, which will suit just as well for Tionesta; hence we give it without the alteration of even a punctuation mark: With the near approach of spring again comes up the question of sanitation. It comes up every spring. A cursory scraping of the streets, a little digging out around the alleys, a partial examination of filthy holes, cess pools and deposits of reeking dead is usually done, and the spasm of cleanliness is over for the year. We say this is the regular program. In 1893 this will not do, unless our people and the authorities are willing to take the responsibility of lurking disease and certain death. Or if those who run the town officially and unofficially think the usual slipshod, flap-doodle method will suffice how would it do for them to hold an informal gathering and kindly designate the number of lives they are willing to sacrifice to the cause of negligence. And while fixing the number designate out of those homes they are to be taken. Do you want one of your household so designated? We admit that's pretty strong language, but isn't it true as a matter of fact? Don't we by neglect of sanitation say in effect that we are willing to sacrifice life (or at least run the risk of so doing) and for what? To save on a tax levy! Money before life! In this neglect we really don't care what the number or the names of those to be offered on this unworthy altar of mammon, but nevertheless the lives are so sacrificed. Tidoute isn't any dirtier than hundreds of other places. But then other places do clean up, not gloss over. Tidoute has been surrounded all winter with towns in which diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc., have been prevalent. The cholera is alive in this county. We have escaped epidemics so far. But we will not unless earnest, persistent, thorough work is done in cleaning up. Do you kick at the cost? Will you refuse to respond heartily to the cause of cleanliness? If you do, and disease and death comes rest assured that you will as surely be writ a murderer as the man who draws a knife across his neighbor's throat.

NEWSY NOTES.

Harry Coffin and Wm. Clancy, of Olean, were fined $20 each for dynamiting fish in Olean creek. That's the stuff.

Erie claims to have as one of her citizens the identical man who fired the first union gun at Fort Sumpter. His name is James Gibbons.

The Lake Erie ship canal scheme is again brought to the front by a proposition from Pittsburg capitalists to form a stock company to build it. The cost is estimated at about $30,000,000.

Time is money. According to a current note Wm. Farrell was released a few days ago from the Lackawanna county jail, where he served a four months' term for refusing to pay fifty cents in taxes.

A German scientist has succeeded in making a fair article of brandy out of sawdust. An exchange sees in this the near approach of the happy day when a man can take up a rip-saw and get drunk on a rail fence.

After the last big snow storm a Lebanon farmer saw a covey of eight half-starved and half-frozen partridges sitting in a fence corner. Instead of feeding the poor creatures, he killed all of them with a shotgun and went home boasting of his achievement. His crowing died out, however, when he was fined $80 and the costs of the suit for killing the birds out of season.

Boston was visited by another great conflagration on the 10th inst., entailing a loss of property valued at $4,500,000. It was one of the three greatest fires in Boston's history—those of 1872 and 1889 being the other two.

Mr. Cleveland will have a middle-aged Cabinet. Their ages are thus given: Cleveland, 56 years; Stevenson, 58; Gresham, 61; Carlisle, 58; Bissell, 46; Lamont, 41; Herbert, 50; Olney, 58; Smith, 38; Morton, 60.

President Harrison has accepted a professorship in the Stanford University of California for five years at a salary of $25,000 a year. He will deliver a series of lectures on constitutional law, and it is said will not be employed more than two months in the year.

An exchange tells of a lady who decided to scare her husband, who was quite a hard drinker, so that he would reform. To do this she procured a costume of a devil that had been worn at a masquerade. The next time the erring spouse came home feeling happy she quickly donned the costume, and as he opened the door she stepped forward and said in sepulchral tones: "Come with me—I am the devil!" The result rather astonished her, as the response that greeted her was: "Zat so? Shak of' boy. I'm your brother-in-law. I married your sister."

Leslie Jacox, mail carrier between Kingsville and Summerville, taking in Shannondale on his way, walks daily 34 miles; weekly 204 miles; monthly 884 miles, and yearly 10,612 miles. During his four years ending July 1st, 1893, he will have walked 42,968 miles. It is said Mr. Jacox can outwalk any person in the country, that for miles he swings along at a gait that would distance any one in this part of the state at least, and at the same time he not only likes his employment, but has excellent health and spirits. He receives as compensation $260 per year.—Clarion Jacksonian.

Isaac Morrison of Beechwoods, was born in Ireland, but came to America in 1832. Immediately after his marriage, about 1847, he purchased a second hand clock from Mr. Turney, who at that time was landlord of the old Franklin House, Brookville, which stood where the Central Hotel is located. He took the clock home, put it in position and started it. During all these years Mr. Morrison has wound this clock every evening when at home, as regularly as he went to bed, not one but himself giving it any attention when he was about. During his married life the longest he has been absent from home at one time was seven weeks, and his absence during the whole period would not exceed one year. He has therefore wound this clock at least fifteen thousand times.—Brookville Democrat.

Rick Donovan, a popular Democratic hotel-keeper at Kane, McKean county Pa., was the cause of a good deal of amusement at the Capitol during the inauguration. The reason for this is that Mr. Donovan is an excellent double for Senator David B. Hill. Consequently he was followed by throngs of admirers wherever he went, and on numerous occasions he was stopped by persons and addressed as Senator Hill and asked relative to pending legislation. To one excited individual rushed up to him in the presence of the Express correspondent and anxiously inquired whether he would be able to secure the passage of the New York Bridge bill before adjournment. The resemblance was so marked that the Senator and the hotel keeper were brought together and exchanged a few words.—Buffalo Express.

When Doctors All Agree. It is a fact well established, that February and March are the most trying months to aged or enfeebled persons. Pneumonia, influenza and kindred chest affections, are most liable to get in their deadly work. There is but one thing to do, build up and fortify the system with a reliable medicine. Medical men all over the country agree that Klein's "Silver Age" at $1.50 per quart, and "Duquesne" at $1.25 per quart, stand without a peer. If you want fine six year old (Guinness) beer, Finch, Gibson, Overholt, or Bear Creek, you can have them at $1.00 per quart or six quarts for $5.00. We are recognized headquarters for and choicest brands of Wine, Liquor, Cordials, etc. Goods expressed anywhere. Send for complete price list; mention this paper. ALEX. KLEIN, 82 Federal St., Allegheny, Pa.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENT! In order to more thoroughly advertise my work, both large and small, and also to enlarge my frame trade, I will, at my Tionesta Gallery, until June 1st, 1893, give free to each customer sitting for one dozen Cabinet Photos, one two-thirds life-size Bromide Crayon Portrait, providing they purchase a suitable frame for it at the Gallery. In order to get the benefit of this offer you will please cut out the card below and present it at the time you sit for your Photos. My frames are as cheap as you can get anywhere, but we will not sell a frame cheaper than our $2.50 one on this work, and unless the picture is put in a good frame it never looks well. I care not how fine it may be; so this is the reason we will not sell a cheap frame for this work, and not, as you might think, that we want to get the price of picture and frame for the frame alone, by no means. The frames are all marked in plain figures, and you will pay the same price for one in any case, and it is as cheap as it can be bought anywhere.

I have at present an A 1 man at the Gallery, who will try his best to please you and do you good work. I have also fitted the place up in good shape to do good work, and the work hereafter will be finished at the Gallery, without being sent to Oil City.

This inducement, with our steady business will have a tendency to make a rush, so if you want Photos soon after sitting I would say, come at once, as those coming first will, of course, be served first. Thanking my old customers for past favors, and inviting new ones, I remain Very Respy, J. W. SIREN, W. J. BULGER, Operator at Tionesta.

Cut this out, as it is worth $3.00 to you, and may not appear again!—

GOOD FOR ONE BROMIDE CRAYON PORTRAIT. It is presented by a sitter at Sires' Tionesta Gallery Before June 1st, 1893.

We are recognized headquarters for and choicest brands of Wine, Liquor, Cordials, etc. Goods expressed anywhere. Send for complete price list; mention this paper. ALEX. KLEIN, 82 Federal St., Allegheny, Pa.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENT! In order to more thoroughly advertise my work, both large and small, and also to enlarge my frame trade, I will, at my Tionesta Gallery, until June 1st, 1893, give free to each customer sitting for one dozen Cabinet Photos, one two-thirds life-size Bromide Crayon Portrait, providing they purchase a suitable frame for it at the Gallery. In order to get the benefit of this offer you will please cut out the card below and present it at the time you sit for your Photos. My frames are as cheap as you can get anywhere, but we will not sell a frame cheaper than our $2.50 one on this work, and unless the picture is put in a good frame it never looks well. I care not how fine it may be; so this is the reason we will not sell a cheap frame for this work, and not, as you might think, that we want to get the price of picture and frame for the frame alone, by no means. The frames are all marked in plain figures, and you will pay the same price for one in any case, and it is as cheap as it can be bought anywhere.

I have at present an A 1 man at the Gallery, who will try his best to please you and do you good work. I have also fitted the place up in good shape to do good work, and the work hereafter will be finished at the Gallery, without being sent to Oil City.

This inducement, with our steady business will have a tendency to make a rush, so if you want Photos soon after sitting I would say, come at once, as those coming first will, of course, be served first. Thanking my old customers for past favors, and inviting new ones, I remain Very Respy, J. W. SIREN, W. J. BULGER, Operator at Tionesta.

Cut this out, as it is worth $3.00 to you, and may not appear again!—

GOOD FOR ONE BROMIDE CRAYON PORTRAIT. It is presented by a sitter at Sires' Tionesta Gallery Before June 1st, 1893.

After the last big snow storm a Lebanon farmer saw a covey of eight half-starved and half-frozen partridges sitting in a fence corner. Instead of feeding the poor creatures, he killed all of them with a shotgun and went home boasting of his achievement. His crowing died out
